"The Very Thought Of You" Slat'ed

Reminding Huntites that very few bids are left for the Tootle Fruttie Thirty Twotles' "The Very Thought of You" dance, prospective attendants were asked to contact block club members as soon as possible.

The three S's, sweet music, super refreshments and super door prizes are all yours for the price of a bid, Mino Hirumura, Blk. 32 spokesman, said.

The dance is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m., Feb. 10, at D. H. 32.

110 Seniors, Guests Attend Banquet

With approximately 110 people present, the mid-year graduates of Hunt High School held their last informal dinner, on Friday, January 26, at D. H. 23.

The dinner was followed by the playing of several tunes on the piano by Mr. Phillips, high school language instructor, and speeches by the various guests. Included among the guest speakers of the evening were Ray Harker, high school principal; Arthur Kleinkopf, superintendent of education; Edward Huberman, assistant project director in charge of Community Management, and Elma Tharp, senior class advisor.

The menu for the banquet included chow mein, chow shu, pakoi, chicken, egg foo young, and other Oriental dishes which were prepared by S. Soedae, chef of D. H. 32. Climaxing the evening was a dance enjoyed by everyone.

Fellowship Invites Youth for Surprise "Different" Social

"Something unique, and heretofore untried," is promised to all attendants of the weekly Youth Fellowship at Rec. 16 Sunday evening from 6:30 p. m.

The entire evening will be conducted and engineered by a all-boys committee, from arrangements to refreshments. "It's something that the girls can't miss," it was said. Aside from the usual roster of games played at socials, a new game called "Christmas In January," will be presented to the Hunt young people for the first time.

This all-denominational social will be chairmanned by popular leaders Ray Mitsudo and Mas Kudo. The public is invited.

Sono Osato Stars In New Broadway Show 'On the Town'

In her second Broadway show, "On the Town," Sono Osato catches and keeps the spotlight, writes Time magazine, Jan. 8 issue. She has personality and piquant looks as well as nimble feet.

Giving a little of Miss Osato's background Time writes: Born 25 years ago in Omaha, the daughter of a Japanese father and an Irish-French mother, she joined Col. De Bussil's Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo when she was 14 and toured the world with it. Her roles got better, but her pay ($30 per week) did not—and she finally walked out. Three years ago, as a member of the Bol Hurok troupe, she made another ballet exit—when the Government refused to let her go to California because of her Japanese blood. Sono, who has a brother with the Nisei 442nd combat team and is married to a young French-Moroccan architect, has never had any other trouble over race.

Because she could also act and sing in "On the Town," she turned down Billy Rose's offer to "back her up with 40 dancers" in the "Seven Lively Arts." "Anyhow, says she, "if you're trying to be somebody, why get smothered under great big names like Beatrice

"Kabuki" Attracts Capacity Crowds

Always drawing a capacity crowd and giving enjoyment to thousands of older folks, the Mimasu Kai, Japanese drama group, produced another Kabuki, playing one night stands in several dining halls recently.

The Mimasu Kai, one of three Japanese drama groups within the center, starred the Kabuki, titled "Shige no Kowakare" with the featured player Taniji Onoye, stage name of the director. The Kabuki is a classical Japanese drama.

Featured spots were taken by little six-year-old girls, the Misses Sanaye Urakawa and Yamashita, who executed intricate Japanese dances and carried important play parts with all the poise and charm of seasoned actresses.

The Kabuki played in seven dining halls, 34, 21, 14, 29, 39, 8 and 3, with an approximate total of 2,500 spectators.

Fr. C. Boesflug Arrives from Ariz.

Replacing Father L. H. Tibesar, M. M., the Rev. Clement Boesflug, known to his friends as Father Clement, arrived from the Poston center last week. He was the Chaplain at the Arizona project since evacuation.

Fr. Clement was assistant to Fr. Tibesar for a time in Seattle. He plans to visit his friends from Seattle as soon as time permits.

CORRECTION

In a PTA story of the January 20 issue, it was inadvertently stated that "all blocks except Blk. 1 participated." It should have read "all blocks except one block participated."

TWELVE NOMINEES VIE FOR QUEEN TITLE

Blk. Clubs Submit Four Candidates; Election on Monday Decides Finalist

After nominations were made, and the flurry of voting, subdued somewhat, twelve beautiful girls emerged as candidates for the coveted title of Sweetheart of Minidoka. They are the Misses Sachi Hayashida, Blk. 7 YPC; Aiko Heyamoto, Statistics; Hiroyo Hisata, Outside Employment; Shiz Horita, Motor Pool; Isoye Kawabata, Property Control; Grace Kawata, Relocation Division; Mary Masunaga, Lega Aid; Kaye Matsushita, Blk. 30 YPC; Ann Nakamura, Blk. 28 YPC; Haruko Sakai, Blk. 26 YPC; Junie Oyama, Hospital and Sachi Tahara, Co-op.

Pictures of the Misses Kaye Matsushita and Sachi Tahara were not available.

Because the number of candidates were fewer than expected, the finalists has been reduced to five. Out of the five, one of them will be chosen Sweetheart.

The primary election for the finalists will be held on Monday. Ballots on which voters will check off five names will be distributed today. The voting will be in the hands of the block club cabinet, and will be held in the dining halls. The time will be left up to the discretion of the voting managers.

Pictures and statistics on the finalists will appear in next week's IRRIGATOR.

The final election for the Sweetheart will be held on Feb. 12. However, the identity of the Sweetheart will be kept secret until the coronation at the Ball.

Students Conduct Rally

A giant rally, in which the campaign managers of the finalists will put on acts and sketches to promote their candidate, will be held in the school Gymnasium on Sunday evening, Feb. 11. At the event, conducted by the high school annual staff, refreshments will be sold. All proceeds from the concessions will go toward financing the annual.

Sweetheart Ball Big Affair

Honoring the Sweetheart and her Royal Court, the Sweetheart Ball, the first dance to be held in the auditorium, will be scheduled for Feb. 17, 7:30 to 12 p. m. Bids will be on sale at the Community Activities office by Tuesday, Feb. 6. Bids will also be distributed to the block clubs.

Highlighting the Ball, will be the revealing of the Sweetheart at the coronation. Though de-

PTA's to Meet In February

A meeting of the Huntville, Stafford and High School PTA's is being planned in commemoration of the founding of this organization and the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, announced Arthur Kleinkopf, superintendent of education.

The meeting will be held in the gymnasium. February 16 is tentatively set for the occasion, and at least 1,000 members are estimated to be present. The Twin Falls PTA has been invited and a program will be presented by them, said Kleinkopf.

tails are not complete, the queen and her entire court will be presented at the intermission.

As a special attraction, garden corsages will be sold by the committee.

Due to wartime restrictions, only a limited number of gardenias will be available. Escorts wishing corsages for their dates were warned to put in their order at the C/O office as soon as possible. Orders are now being taken as of today.

Under the experienced showmanship of Hero Nishimoto, at 45-minute floor show will be presented.

Convoys will be provided.

Committee Named

An imposing roster of well-known names have been picked out to form the Sweetheart Committee. Under the chairmanship of Harry Nakata, the list includes: Hero Nishimoto, George Kaku, Paul Hasegawa, T. R. Goto, Yoshi Mori, Frank Okita, Yoshie Fujihira, Haggie Nakashima, Garry Oye, Mino Hirumura, Hisaye Sakanashi, Mits Yasuda, Hiroe Nagasawa, Harry Fukura, and George Enoki.

The decoration of the hall has been delegated to T. R. Goto, who was chairman of the Christmas decoration of Blk. 28, first place winner of the Dining Hall Contest.
